

A Sustainable Coastline for Chile in a Climate Change Scenario - learnings from California's Coastal experience

Date: Wednesday, December 4th, 13:45 – 15:15 hrs.

Location: Chilean Pavilion – UNFCCC COP25 – IFEMA, Madrid, Spain

Coordinator: Chile California Council

Sponsors: Observatorio de la Costa Chile, Ministry of Science of Chile, California Natural Resources

CHILE-CALIFORNIA: CONNECTING THE PACIFIC OCEAN, COASTAL BIOLOGICAL CORRIDOR

15:30 Welcome remarks

Mr. Matías Alcalde – Representative to the
Chile California Council
Ministry of Foreign Affairs of Chile

KEYNOTE SPEAKERS

15:40 Science to guide a Coastal Zoning and Stakeholder's Processes

Mr. Andrés Couve – Ministry of Science
Government of Chile

15:55 Marine Life Protection Act (MLPA) Process

Amanda Hansen – California Deputy Secretary
California Natural Resources. Agency

SCIENCE, LOCAL MANAGEMENT AND COMMUNITY ENGAGEMENT TO ADDRESS COASTAL CHALLENGES

16:10 Climate Change and the Chilean Coastline

Dr. Patricio Winckler
Research Associate and Academic Universidad de Valparaiso - CIGIDEN

16:20 Risks and Natural Disasters Analysis

Dr. Rodrigo Cienfuegos
Director and Lead researcher
CIGIDEN - Observatorio de la Costa

16:30 Coastal Bill for Chile

Dra. Carolina Martinez
Geographer and research associate
CIGIDEN - Observatorio de la Costa

16:40 Coastal Wetlands and Water Crisis

Mrs. Carolina Jarpa
Consultant
Universidad Austral - Observatorio de la Costa

16:50 Community's Engagement

Mrs. Jacqueline Peters
Comité Ambiental Comuna de Algarrobo
Observatorio de la Costa

17:00 Closure